

PROCTOHEAL®

PROCTOHEAL is a topical corticoid for haemorrhoids, eczema, itching and related conditions.

PROPERTIES:

The topical corticoid fluocinolone acetonide contained in PROCTOHEAL forms has proved to be of great value in the treatment of inflammatory, allergic and pruritic dermatoses. It is distinguished by its prompt onset of effect and good tolerance.

PROCTOHEAL is suitable for the treatment of the ano - rectal symptoms complex, of which the main symptoms are pain, itching and burning. The astringent and antiseptic activity of bismuth subgallate has been known for a long time. The local anaesthetic lidocaine as well as the cooling action of menthol exert a pain - relieving effect.

The total action of the different components guarantees rapid improvement of the complaints and promotes healing.

INDICATIONS:

All external and internal haemorrhoids, anal eczema, proctitis, anal itching, pre and post operative treatment.

APPLICATION AND DOSAGE:

The ointment is particularly indicated for eczema, itching and other perianal skin affections. It should be applied 2 - 3 times daily into the rectum by means of the nozzle and gently rubbed into the skin, if necessary after a hip bath. The suppositories are mainly indicated for internal and external haemorrhoids, they should be introduced in the morning and evening and after bowel movement followed, if possible, by a hip bath. Some indications, however, need the combined use of ointment and suppositories.

CONTRAINDICATIONS:

Tuberculosis or syphilis lesions of the field of application.
