

PHYSIOGEL® A.I. Cream HYPOALLERGENIC

The cutaneous barrier, which is found in the skin, protects our body against external factors such as allergenic substances, sun radiation, contamination, etc, and so, it is necessary to care for it daily to maintain it in a healthy condition.

On the other hand, external factors may cause an inflammatory process which worsens with the formulation of chemical products, which are highly aggressive and toxic to the cutaneous tissues.

PHYSIOGEL A.I. CREAM, as in the range of the Physiogel moisturisers, contains DMS® (Derma Membrane Structure), which provides the same lipids and in the same composition as the ones which, in a natural way, are present in the cutaneous barrier.

PHYSIOGEL A.I. CREAM, also contains a complex of natural substances, called NAE which provides a natural protection against external aggressions. This in turn prevents the inflammatory process from appearing.

PHYSIOGEL A.I. CREAM is highly hypoallergenic, because it also contains natural physiological components, and does not contain perfumes, preservatives, dyes or emulsifiers.
